

Touted as the movie screen's next big heart-throb is Louis Jourdan, above, 25-year-old French actor, now in Hollywood to make his first American film. Seznick talent scouts spotted him in England, where he was making a French movie, about French and British paratroopers.

Murdered Trapper Believed Victim Of Poachers' Feud

DALTON MILLS, Ont. (CP)—Ontario Provincial Police today placed the bullet-throb body of Daniel Tessier, 34-year-old northern Ontario trapper and sawmill worker, aboard a plane for a flight to Sudbury, where Dr. N. F. W. Graham of South St. Marie, Ont., provincial pathologist, is to perform a post-mortem.

Discovery Wednesday of Tessier's body in the Jackpine River vindicated old-time bush lore that the body would rise nine days after it had gone into the river.

It was found by Alfred Bougie, 41, Tessier's trapping partner, and by Thomas Saunders, 49, of Mississauga, Ont., Tessier's Ojibway Indian father-in-law.

Preliminary police investigation indicated a bullet struck Tessier just above the right temple, tore through his head and emerged on the other side.

The body was found not far from the spot where Bougie found Tessier's empty boat, blood-stained and bullet-pierced, a week ago. That discovery touched off bushland gossip that Tessier had been slain by poachers against whom he was to present evidence.

Bandits Escape In Motorboat

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Five armed, masked bandits today held up the branch of the Provincial Bank of Canada at nearby Tecumseh as the bank was about to close at 3 p.m., and escaped with between $5,000 and $10,000.

The bandits fled in an automobile. Later three of them were seen leaving the car at Bar Harbor, 10 miles east of Windsor and about four miles from the holdup scene. They entered an outboard motorboat and headed for Peche Island.

Two other bandits continued to travel east along the river front highway.

An eyewitness report from Bar Harbor said there was a woman in the motorboat.

May Halt Making Rolled Oats In U.S.

CHICAGO (AP)—A complete shutdown of the United States rolled oats industry in about two weeks was predicted today unless manufacturers are able to obtain larger quantities of oats.

The industry produces cereals and by-product feeds.

Prospective closing down of the industry, similar to that which has plagued corn refiners and flour millers at various times, came despite record-breaking stocks of oats on farms and an excellent outlook for the 1946 crop.

Officials blamed the difficulties on "black markets," which he said were diverting rolled oats from normal trade channels.

$3,500 Damages For Roller Skater

EDMONTON (CP)—Damages totaling $3,500 were awarded by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor in the Alberta Supreme Court today to Miss Doris Rae of Edmonton, who suffered a permanent spine injury when she fell while skating at an Edmonton roller rink.

In a written judgment, the jurist found the operators of the rink negligent in not providing toe straps for the skates.

B.C. Member To Testify For Rose

OTTAWA (CP)—William Irvine, C.C.F. Member of Parliament for Cariboo, said today that he was one of several members of Parliament called as defence witnesses at the conspiracy trial of Fred Rose, Labor-Progressive Member for Montreal-Cartier.

Mr. Irvine said Victor Quelch, Social Credit Member for Acadia, Alta., also had been subpoenaed, but he did not know the identity of the others. He added that he was asked to appear in court in Montreal tomorrow.

It was understood that a member from the Liberal Party and one from the Progressive Conservative Party also were subpoenaed and that the purpose of this move by defence counsel is to have Members of Parliament testify as character witnesses.

Canada 5,500,000 Tons Of Coal Short Of Requirement

OTTAWA (CP)—The United States government is being "most helpful" in aiding Canada to obtain her coal requirements Reconstruction Minister Howe said today in the Commons.

Mr. Howe spoke after T. L. Church, P.C., Toronto Broadview, moved the adjournment of the House to discuss the situation arising with what he said was a United States "embargo" against the carrying of coal by vessels on the Great Lakes.

The Minister said he wished to correct a few misunderstandings and one of these was that the United States had imposed an embargo on coal shipments to Canada. This was not so.

What had happened, he continued, was that coal had been moved into United States lake ports in excess of their capacity to load. Therefore, shipments to the ports had been stopped.

Coal was moving out of them freely and any vessels available to take coal to Canada were obtaining supplies.

Mr. Howe said the Dominion entered the summer season with stocks "usually" depleted. Movement of coal had been difficult during the war and stocks had been low this year. The situation had been further aggravated by the United States coal strikes and the strike of Canadian Great Lakes seamen.

The Dominion is 5,500,000 tons short. Normally, she produced 17,000,000 tons of coal and imported another 25,000,000 tons, the bulk of which went to central Canada.

The government planned to ship to Ontario and Quebec 1,000,000 tons from Alberta but supplies from that area were limited by the ability of Canadian railroads to move it. Another 3,000,000 tons would be obtained from the Maritimes if shipping facilities were available and Maritime production would be stepped up sufficiently.

The situation frankly was serious. Steps had been taken to increase supplies of fuel oil and some progress had been made in this direction, but it was not enough to offset the coal shortage.

2 Elevators Burn

VANGUARD, Sask. (CP)—Estimated damage of approximately $49,000 was caused here Wednesday when fire destroyed the Reliance Grain Elevators and annex and the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool elevator—exactly 15 years after the organizations suffered a similar loss here.

The fire, of unknown origin, also destroyed the Co-operative Coal Company shed, an empty box car and a number of grain doors. Vanguard is about 40 miles southeast of Swift Current.

Maps Showing Great Gamble In Asia Shown

By DUAN HENNESSY

TOYO (AP)—The men whom the Allies charge with having flung the Pacific countries into war saw their ambitious bid for an empire, paraded before them on huge, 15-foot-square, red-lined maps today as the prosecution opened its case before the International War Crimes tribunal.

Wartime Premier Hideki Tojo and 25 others who were associated with him in the great Asian gamble watched intently as the maps charting Nippon's expansion and collapse in Manchuria, China, southeast Asia and the south Pacific were unfolded.

The courtroom was stiflingly hot and after the maps were rolled the defendants and spectators alike dozed fitfully while Brig. Henry G. Nolan, assistant prosecutor for Canada, for 4 1/2 hours outlined the prosecution's history of the Japanese government.

Brig Nolan is vice-judge advocate at defence headquarters in Ottawa.

Even Sir William Webb, tribunal president, dozed momentarily and snapped back to attention with an embarrassed look. Shortly afterward he halted Brig. Nolan and suggested the prosecutor shorten the remainder of the report and present it at the opening of the court Friday.

The first evidence introduced to the 11-man justice court was nearly 100 historic documents—treaties and agreements which the prosecution charged Tojo and his fellow defendants with violating.

400 Trekkers From Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Approximately 400 striking woodworkers, including some 50 women, paraded to the C.P.R. pier today, bound for Victoria.

Traveling light, they carried only banners, bundles and bags. A few took members of their families with them, but no small children. They sailed on the Princess Elizabeth at 1 p.m. (Standard Time).

The I.W.A., auxiliary, mostly clad in white, woodworking coveralls, were enjoying the fun and acted as though on a pleasure cruise.

Winnipeg Faces Strike In Movies

WINNIPEG (CP)—A strike of about 50 projectionists in 16 Winnipeg theatres was a possibility today after a vote which endorsed strike action because of a refusal of the Regional War Labor Board to approve partial restoration of pay cuts made during the depression.

The projectionists are members of local 299 of the International Alliance of Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators (A.F.L.). The theatres concerned belong to Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Western Theatres Ltd. and Allied Amusements Ltd.

Subway To Island Urged By Candidate

VANCOUVER (CP) — A subway from Vancouver's Point Grey District under Georgia Straits to Vancouver Island is advocated by a candidate in the Vancouver-Point Grey by-election.

The candidate is Peter McAllister, who is to seek one of the two vacancies in the provincial Legislature caused by the deaths several months ago of A. J. Paton and the former Attorney-General, R. L. Maitland.

Mr. McAllister, running as a Liberal Industrialist, has several other planks in his by-election campaign platform. These include proposals for a huge waterfront shipbuilding industry across the mouth of the Fraser River; establishment of a scientific base at Point Grey for experimenting on radium and uranium; an airport on the roof of a large building, and development of oil and gas deposits in the riding.

50 Years With B.C. Electric Co. A. T. Goward Passes At Home Here

Albert Toller Goward, who started in the public-utility business as a conductor in 1890 and who retired last year as vice-president of the B.C. Power Corporation, died at his home 1605 York Place, Wednesday evening. Death followed an illness of several months. He was 74 years of age.

Born at Tenby, South Wales, Mr. Goward served as a clerk with the Atlas Insurance Company, Bristol and London, for two years. He came to Victoria in 1890, worked as a conductor for the National Electric Railway and Lighting Co. Ltd., and a year later entered the office.

When the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. took over the business in 1898 he was appointed Victoria manager. His appointment as vice-president came in 1923.

On concluding 50 years' service with the B.C. Electric and its predecessor company in 1940, Mr. Goward was honored at a banquet given by company executives at Vancouver. W. G. Murrin, former president of the B.C. Electric, presented him with a silver tea service and candleabra.

"Fifty years in one company is very unusual," said Mr. Murrin in making the presentation, and telling of the days in Victoria when Mr. Goward first went to work.

In addition to becoming a leading business figure, Mr. Goward was also widely known as a sportsman and philanthropist. On behalf of B.C. Electric employees he guided the Employees' Sick and Death Benefit Association as its permanent president. Despite advice from actuarial experts who repudiated the plan as unsound, Mr. Goward fathered it through many a stormy session.

Today it shows a record of having paid out thousands of dollars in benefits with a minimum of expense.

Former athlete
In his younger days he boasted an enviable reputation among Victoria athletes. In the early 90's he was crowned men's singles champion in the British Columbia tennis finals. He went on to win many trophies in men's and mixed doubles competitions.

Also an enthusiastic soccer player Mr. Goward in 1894-5 captained the B.C. champions, Victoria Wanderers. From 1897 to 1902 he was captain of the Victoria rugby team which also won provincial honors.

As a cricketer in 1898 playing against an Esquimalt naval team he set up the outstanding bowling analysis of 11 wickets for one run—10 clean bowled and one caught in the slips. He was also well known as a singer at the turn of the century.

In later years he turned to golf and was a member of both the Victoria Golf Club and Colwood Golf Club. He was also a member of the Union Club.

Besides his widow he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Charles W. Thornton, Brentwood, and Mrs. Edwin Cole, Cardiff, Wales.

THE LATE A. T. GOWARD

and a brother, H. Austin Goward, 1307-Transit Road.

Funeral services will be at Christ Church Cathedral, Saturday at 11 a.m. They will be conducted by Bishop H. E. Sexton. Interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay.

Pritchett Again Appeals For Further Negotiation

Harold Pritchett, district president of the striking International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.), C.C.L., in Victoria late Wednesday afternoon appealed to the B.C. and Dominion governments, and the public, to insist that representatives of the province's sawmill and logging operators again enter into negotiation with the union to settle the now 29-day-old strike of 35,000 woodworkers.

Although the I.W.A. last week had rejected Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan's non-binding arbitration strike settlement plan and had rejected the Chief Justice, saying "we can no longer accept you as an ambassador of good will interested in bringing about a fair and just settlement to the dispute" Mr. Pritchett, announced Wednesday afternoon after meeting the Chief Justice that the union was prepared at a moment's notice to enter negotiations with the assistance of the Chief Justice.

Accompanying Mr. Pritchett at the meeting with the Chief Justice was Karl Larsen, international vice-president of the I.W.A., from Portland, Ore.

Following the meeting, Mr. Pritchett made the following statement: "We came here at the request of Chief Justice Sloan to discuss further possibilities of finding a basis for an early settlement to the dispute.

"We were prepared to enter into direct negotiations using the Sloan recommendations of June 1 as a basis. We were very much surprised to find the employers flatly refusing to negotiate on any basis, even though they were

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Writer

Britain's outspoken Foreign Secretary Bevin, whose bluntness is one of his notable characteristics, came close to outblinding himself yesterday during his extemporaneous speech on his conduct of Britain's foreign policy at the annual Labor Party conference in Bourne-mouth.

Mr. Bevin climbed two crazy peaks, from which there is no retreat. These were his declarations regarding the Palestine crisis and his two-folded program for the forthcoming Paris conference of Big Four Foreign Ministers which failed in its last session.

As for Palestine, he set new bulletins flashing around the world when he announced that he would reject immigration "tomorrow" of 100,000 Jews to the Holy Land. He was equally direct regarding the Paris meeting, vowing that if the negotiations bogged down he would sign separate peace treaties with the defeated European countries. A week earlier he had characterized this parley as "one last attempt" to gain Russian co-operation for peace.

It is worthy of note that the Labor Party yesterday tendered the Foreign Secretary an overwhelming vote endorsing his conduct of foreign affairs.

In explaining his rejection of immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews to the Holy Land, Mr. Bevin said: "The forest operators' delegation, which visited Victoria Tuesday to meet Chief Justice Sloan was not at any time asked to re-enter negotiations with the union or to consent to the discussion of any new terms.

"As Chief Justice Sloan himself made clear, the operators were invited to Victoria for the sole purpose of discussing the interpretation of one clause of the Sloan recommendations of June 1, and the meeting was in no way intended to reopen negotiations with the I.W.A.

"The employers are still prepared to accept without reservation the recommendations contained in Chief Justice Sloan's report, and in view of the fact that these recommendations have been endorsed by Premier John Hart, Minister of Labor Pearson, Federal Minister of Labor Humphrey Mitchell and the B.C. members of Parliament, hardly feel it necessary to reply to Mr. Pritchett's unfounded accusations. No amount of verbiage can obscure the fact that Mr. Pritchett's unfortunate position and that of the men he has led out on this illegal strike rests squarely on the shoulders of the I.W.A. executive as a result of the blundering refusal of Chief Justice Sloan's recommendations.

"Acceptance of Chief Justice Sloan's award would start the wheels turning again within 24 hours."

ing the Big Four meeting in Paris was reminiscent of the statement made May 20 by State Secretary Byrnes, who declared—and he aimed his words at Russia—that no one of the great powers has a right to veto the making of peace in Europe and that if a general peace conference isn't called this summer, the United States will appeal to the United Nations' Assembly to make peace recommendations. It is apparent Britain and the U.S. stand together in principle on this issue.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Immediate re-assembly of the Dominion-Provincial Conference is urged in a resolution passed at the provincial convention of the Progressive Conservative Association of Manitoba Wednesday.

The raising of the income tax exemption for single persons to $1,200 and for married persons to $2,000 was also recommended, as was a downward adjustment of tariff rates to the point that Canadian exports can, as nearly as possible, be paid for by Canadian imports from other countries.

Trekkers To March Friday On Parliament Buildings

A parade of thousands of striking International Woodworkers of America trekkers will march on the Parliament Buildings at 2:30 Friday afternoon to back up the demands of a small I.W.A. delegation which at the same time will confer with the provincial cabinet.

The I.W.A.'s trek committee announced early this afternoon 600 strikers, from up-island logging and sawmill centres in the Courtenay-Comox and Alberni districts, had passed through Parksville en route to Nanaimo where they will demonstrate later this afternoon before proceeding to Ladysmith and Duncan to spend the night.

The trekkers, to be joined by an estimated 1,000 strikers from the mainland at Nanaimo, along with hundreds of others from the Ladysmith and Cowichan Lake areas, will leave the up-island centres at 9 Friday morning for the mass trek to Victoria. All trekkers are being transported by car and truck.

First contingent of strikers is expected in Victoria late in the morning or early Friday afternoon.

The strikers will enter the city by Gorge Road, proceed by Hillside Avenue and Quadra Street to Central Park. There they will leave cars and trucks, which will proceed to Camp Macaulay.

All trekkers who have arrived in Victoria by 1 will leave on foot from Central Park at 1 Friday afternoon and march to the Parliament Buildings.

Route of this march will be along Quadra, Yates, Government and Belleville Streets. On arriving at the Parliament Buildings the trekkers will march around the buildings and then assemble along Belleville Street while the delegation is interviewing the provincial cabinet.

Through the combined efforts of Harold Pritchett, district union president, and Mayor Percy E. George, the trekkers will be accommodated at Camp Macaulay, it was announced today.

The city will assume all responsibility for fire and other property damage as well as paying the $100 cost of having the power and light turned on at Camp Macaulay.

Purpose of the delegation and the mass lobby is to secure a provincial government order to have the operators re-enter negotiations with the I.W.A. negotiators for a 1946 collective bargaining agreement.

Following the demonstration at the Parliament Buildings Friday afternoon, the mass lobby will march to Camp Macaulay.

At 7 Friday evening the strikers will leave Camp Macaulay and march to Central Park for a mass rally at 8 which will be addressed by Mr. Pritchett, and members of the I.W.A. local here and the Greater Victoria Citizens' Committee, formed this week to support the I.W.A. strikers.

Famine Threat For 1947 Foreseen

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. (CP) — Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, told the Labor Party conference here today that he indicated the government planned steps to dispossess inefficient landowners.

"If we find bad estate management we shall take similar steps with regard to the estate owner in the future as we have been taking with regard to the farmer in the past," Mr. Morrison said.

"If the farmer can sack the farm worker for inefficiency and the government can sack the farmer for inefficiency, I see no real reason why we should not sack the landowner for inefficiency if he fails to fulfill the conditions required."

Mr. Morrison said industrial reconversion was progressing smoothly under the Labor government's planning. He said the government would refuse to direct labor and hoped increased production would be attained by intensive mechanization.

He declared 1947 "will be a year of tight supplies and lack of elbow room, but we can reasonably look forward to an increase of imports."

The conference refused Wednesday to censure Ernest Bevin's conduct of British foreign affairs, but passed a resolution today criticizing farm policies and calling on the government to improve working and welfare conditions for farmers.

The agricultural resolution passed despite the contention of Agriculture Minister Tom Williams that it was unnecessary.

Only a few hands were raised against it after a speech in which he indicated the government planned steps to dispossess inefficient landowners.

Mr. Morrison said industrial reconversion was progressing smoothly under the Labor government's planning. He said the government would refuse to direct labor and hoped increased production would be attained by intensive mechanization.

Byrnes Leaves U.S. For Paris, Showdown Among Big 4 Ministers

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Byrnes of the United States and his advisers leave today for Paris by air and a showdown meeting with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov on restoring peace to Europe.

Diplomatic authorities said there appears to be no doubt the Big Four Foreign Ministers' meeting opening Saturday will prove finally whether the great powers are capable of settling the European peace in unity.

Mr. Byrnes' ace in the hole in trying to persuade Mr. Molotov to come to agreement on such critical issues as the disposition of Trieste and settlement of Italian reparations is an announced determination to carry the whole controversy to the United Nations in September if it is not settled at Paris.

Mr. Byrnes is represented as feeling that the main stumbling block in the way of drafting peace treaties for Italy and Germany's former Balkan satellites is the Russo-American controversy over Trieste. Russia backs Yugoslavia's claims to the entire Venezia Giulia area, while the United States insists that Trieste, being overwhelmingly Italian, must go to Italy.

There is some hope here that a solution may be reached along the lines of British and French suggestions for internationalizing the area under the United Nations.

Beyond the question of the treaties are other proposals previously put forward by Mr. Byrnes and by British Foreign Minister Bevin for various agreements on long-range control of Germany and for the drafting of an Austrian peace treaty.

Soviet Delegate To U.N. Opposes Plans For Spain

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko today expressed complete disagreement with a compromise plan for the United Nations' Security Council to refer the Spanish question to the General Assembly, but did not at this point invoke his power of veto.

The Council adjourned until Monday with the Spanish question still undecided.

Mr. Gromyko's stand against the compromise plan as well as a bitter attack on the conclusions of the sub-committee which investigated Spain made it certain the delegates would have to arrive at another solution if the Spanish question is to be acted on in the Council or sent forward to the Assembly.

Mr. Gromyko said the conclusions of the Council's sub-committee "unfortunately cannot constitute a basis for unanimous decision" on the Spanish question.

CALLED FOR BREAK

The sub-committee had recommended that the General Assembly call upon the United Nations to break relations with Spain if Franco still is in power in September. Under the compromise plan favored by the majority, the General Assembly would be authorized to decide when and if to call for a break in relations or take whatever action it deems appropriate.

Mr. Gromyko said there is no justification for the Council declining to take action on Poland's original proposal to break with Franco Spain immediately.

Accepting a United States compromise plan, Dr. Herbert V. Ewart of Australia, chairman of the Security Council sub-committee, earlier had proposed the Spanish question be referred to the General Assembly for its action.

PLAN MODIFIED

Dr. Ewart opened the Council session with an announcement that the sub-committee had approved modifications of its recommendations as suggested by Herschel V. Johnson, acting United States delegate.

Mr. Johnson has been working day and night among the delegates to obtain a basis for action on which agreement might be reached.

Dr. Ewart stressed that "positive action" would be recommended by the Council and declared the United States suggestion would make the sub-committee recommendations more flexible.

"In the opinion of the sub-committee it is in accordance with the findings in the case and it will mean no diminution of the authority of the Council," he said.

Deadlock Looms On Beef Prices

Any deadlock over beef prices between wholesaler and retailer will not come until next week, according to Reginald Williams, president of the Vancouver Island Retail Meat Association, who was of the opinion today that most retailers "probably had all the meat they could handle for this week."

"There is no change in our stand. We will not pay more than 23 1/2 cents a pound," he said referring to the fact that wholesale prices of top-grade beef was 24 1/2 cents a pound today.

"Most stores probably have all the meat they need for the rest of the week; as a result there will be no shortage or deadlock this week," he said.

No change in the situation was noted by one packing-house official, who said that so far, no retailers had purchased beef from his company at the new price.

Retail butchers are unable, to raise their prices to consumers, regardless of how high the wholesale price goes, one local meat dealer said today.

"Our ceiling price is based on the wholesale price of 21 1/2 cents per pound on special grade beef. Today that grade of beef is selling wholesale at 24 1/2 cents a pound. The butcher loses money even paying the wholesaler 23 1/2 cents a pound," he said.

"If beef goes any higher, I just won't buy it. I will purchase other varieties of meat instead."

Aussie Scientist Scores Spy Probe

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — The charge that the Canadian spy round-up was part of an anti-Soviet plot was made today at a special meeting of the New South Wales state division of the Australian Association of Scientific Workers.

The meeting passed, despite some opposition, a resolution requesting the release of Dr. Alan Nunn May, British physicist recently sentenced in London to 10 years in prison for allegedly divulging atomic information.

J. P. Callaghan, biochemist at the Royal North Shore Hospital, charged that a spy scare in Canada was deliberately designed as a threat to the Soviet Union which important British and United States interests were trying to discredit.

Mr. Callaghan suggested that another war threatened as a result.

Opposing the resolution, Dr. R. K. Murphy, who described the meeting as "the most unscientific" he had ever attended, said the scientists were "getting a little bit hysterical."

Petrillo Charged Under Criminal Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney-General Tom Clark of the United States today announced the filing of a criminal information, charging James C. Petrillo and his American Federation of Musicians (A.F.M.) Union with coercive practices affecting radio broadcasting.

Clark said "the charge is the outcome of Petrillo's alleged violation of the Lea Act, which became a federal law April 16, 1946." The Lea Act provides for up to one year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine for any union which compels or attempts to compel broadcasters to hire more employees than they want.

Petrillo contends the Act is unconstitutional and invited a test by calling a strike May 28 of three studio librarians at Chicago station WAAF. He said he had called the strike because the station refused to hire three additional librarians.

Rearrest Redin

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Lieut. Nicolai G. Redin of the Russian navy was rearrested today on a new secret indictment charging espionage against the United States. A true bill named Herbert Kennedy, a Todd Pacific shipyard engineer, as having been induced by Redin to obtain information about the destroyer tender Yellowstone, built here.

Not Killing O.P.A.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Senate this afternoon killed a proposal to strip the Office of Price Administration immediately of almost all its price controls except those over rents and minerals. The roll-call vote was 51 to 21.

Striking Lakes Seamen Offer To End Strike; Owners Want Time

OTTAWA (CP) — Operators of Great Lakes shipping companies today asked time to consider what appeared to be a final government proposal for settlement of the lake shipping strike.

There were indications there had been a sharp exchange of views at a 2 1/2-hour meeting between Labor Minister Mitchell and his officials and a delegation of operators.

Expectations were that if the operators turned down the proposal, which has been accepted by the union, the government would take control of strike-bound lake shipping.

Representatives of both the operators and the union had been called to Ottawa for conferences sponsored by the Labor Department.

Mr. Mitchell first met with J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, president of the Canadian Seamen's Union, Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and other C.S.U. officers.

When the union men came out of the conference room Mr. Sullivan said they had been given a new formula which was a modification of the settlement plan advanced by the union last week.

"We have accepted it and if the operators accept we can settle this thing today," he said.

He did not disclose the exact formula.

The union had said it was ready to end the strike if the owners would accept the eight-hour day, instead of 12 hours, recognize the union as bargaining agent for all lake seamen and re-engage all strikers with out discrimination.

Immediately following the government-union meeting, Mr. Mitchell and Labor Department officials then conferred with a group of shipowners, putting the new formula before them.

Union delegates remained in the labor office and were available for a joint conference should one be called.

The truck, carrying a load of lumber, was traveling on a highway when it lost control and rolled over its side.

The boy who was killed was 15 years old. The other 12 boys, ranging in age from 10 to 18, were injured.

Two of the boys were taken to the hospital and are in serious condition. The other 10 boys were released after receiving first aid.

MR. BEVIN'S WARNING

WHEN THE REPRESENTATIVES OF the Foreign Ministries of Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union and France sit down together again in Paris on Saturday there will be no ambiguity about the intentions of either London or Washington. Mr. Bevin let himself go on one or two basic points at yesterday's session of the British Labor Party's annual conference, where, incidentally, his record won hearty endorsement. Mr. Bevin's concept of the pressing need of the hour is similar to that of his opposite number in Downing Street.

As the British Foreign Secretary views the present state of affairs, therefore, next week's deliberations in the French capital may decide whether Europe is to be split into eastern and western blocs... for "this division of Europe, this awful business of drawing a line from Stettin to Albania, and behind that this solidified position—if that happens, which God forbid, you will have two camps in Europe and that will be the road to another struggle." Mr. Bevin particularized when he assured his audience that he "would not be a party to any design in strategy against Russia, neither will we give one moment's consideration to expansion."

With Mr. Bevin's intimation that he did not propose to allow any other nation to keep his own "in a state of war forever with other countries," Mr. Byrnes would unhesitatingly agree. In other words, both British and American delegates to Paris this time evidently will demand concerted action on the peace treaties with the former Axis states or, if Mr. Molotov resumes his quibbling tactics, explore the possibility of signing separate agreements. Since this latter procedure would be a breach of the wartime pact between the principal Allies, neither Britain nor the United States will embark upon it lightly.

Mr. Molotov ought to know, however, that the peoples of the world are demanding settlement of the outstanding business of the war which ended a year ago. And if the Russian Foreign Commissar is the keen-sighted statesman, his fellow members of the Council of Ministers take him to be, he will realize that both Mr. Bevin and Mr. Byrnes speak for a vast and intelligent public which is growing increasingly impatient with Soviet manoeuvrings at the conference table. This public has no intention of interfering in Russian internal affairs; it is, on the other hand, weary of being called fascist because it refuses to swallow Communism.

ALBERT TOLLER GOWARD

IT IS A FORTUNATE COMMUNITY which can count among its citizens a man of the sterling qualities of Albert Toller Goward, whose capacity for friendship is reflected in the deep sense of loss which moves Victoria today. Over half a century his personality had been an influence for courtesy and good will in the city to which he devoted his talents and to the development of which he lent his energies.

To his important position as vice-president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. Ltd., with wide authority over its activities in this capital, he brought a wealth of practical experience and a genuine desire to advance not only the interests of his company, but the welfare of the public which shared the benefits of its progress.

Yet it will not be for his practical contributions to the community for which he will be so well remembered, but for his buoyant optimism, his ready sympathy and understanding and his unique ability to brighten the day for those he met. In Mr. Goward Victoria knew and respected a person who met to the full the exacting definition of a gentleman. He was a friend whose passing will be deeply mourned, but whose memory will inspire those virtues for which his life furnished so fine a pattern.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVES OF Manitoba in convention in Winnipeg yesterday listened to words of wisdom from their provincial leader which could be heartily applauded by any body of intelligent people. The speaker was Mr. Ernie Willis, who is also Minister of Public Works in the Coalition government headed by Premier Garson, and who said that if "anything should happen" to Canada, the responsibility would be upon the "thousands of our citizens who belong to no political party and take no part in assisting in public administration."

While the provincial chief of his party in Manitoba confessed that the coalition form of government, like all other systems, had weaknesses, it also had "great strengths and praiseworthy features." Mr. Willis, probably having in mind the doubting Thomases and the "deadwood" of the old line parties, nevertheless suggested "it would be a very brave man indeed who would prophesy as to the permanence of this new form of governmental machinery."

In recent years the province of Manitoba seems to have done very well indeed with its Coalition administration, first under the leadership of the former Liberal Premier John Bracken, and since his translation to the office of presiding genius of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada, with Premier Garson at the helm. As in the case of British Columbia, however, so with the important province of Manitoba, the permanence or otherwise of the joint efforts by the two old parties in double harness will depend to a large extent on the number of conversions to a new realization of the paramount fact that enjoyment of the privileges of Canadian citizenship carries with it the acceptance of complementary responsibilities.

It is commonplace to say at this late stage that the people who are most vocal in their complaints against government generally are those whom Mr. Willis would rally to worthwhile efforts in the public domain—which should result in the removal of those fears of which he is rightly apprehensive. And if any proof were necessary to justify his warning, it can be found in abundance, not only in the apathy of many citizens toward the conduct of their business in national, provincial and municipal affairs, but also in the lethargy reflected by poor attendance at the polls on election days. Were Mr. Willis' injunctions to be repeated every day, it would not be too often.

WHY NOT USE IT?

MOSCOW'S RADIO TOLD THE WORLD yesterday there was "no substitute for teamwork among the principal powers" at the impending meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers in Paris—due to begin its deliberations on Saturday. The broadcast added that certain British and American publications tended "to harp more and more on a single note" in an attempt to apply "high pressure" to the Soviet Union; but "common agreement on the part of all participants" at the conclave in the French capital "is the great hope of the world, its hope for real peace."

What the Moscow radio failed to tell the Russian people was that the "British and American publications" of which it spoke have no more to do with the foreign policy of London and Washington than Pravda and Izvestia would have to do with Russian foreign policy if they were free to "advise" the Kremlin—instead of being told what to say. Of course there is no effective substitute for teamwork; the victorious conclusion of the war proved this contention up to the hilt. Mr. Bevin and Mr. Byrnes have been trying their hardest to get Mr. Molotov to observe team rules; but he seems to take a delight in playing "offside."

GETTING A NEW INDUSTRY

RECONSTRUCTION AND RECONVERSION are terms associated with the transition from a wartime to a peacetime economy. British Columbians in general and Victorians in particular have talked in these terms—during the latter part of the war and more so since the total destruction of the Axis menace. Unhappily for the peace of mind of those who prefer performance to promise, the volume of talk has exceeded that of action. But the announcement of a new industry for Victoria, which appeared in our news columns on Tuesday, is an indication that months of patient negotiation has met its reward. The progress of this ambitious venture in the local industrial field will be watched with absorbing interest by all Victorians. Its launching augurs well for this community's development, particularly because it opens up prospects of substantial employment for the production of a commodity for which there is obviously a large market on this continent.

While practically all the early negotiations were carried on between the promoters and Hon. E. C. Carson, former Minister of Trade and Industry in the Coalition government, and latterly by his successor, Hon. L. H. Eyres, the City Council's prompt action in disposing of the old woolen mill property for a price less than its assessed value of $45,000 was an excellent stroke of business for all concerned. It will enable the new company to complete its installations and speed the day of production. And this liquidation of another of the city's "white elephants" will be satisfactory news for the taxpayers. For the local economy can use all the payrolls it can get. Visible progress—such as this latest enterprise should reflect—is the barometer by which the average investor reads his prospects.

WELL-MEANING

A NATURAL COMPASSION MOVES humans to assist such apparently helpless creatures as fawns when the baby deer are found, apparently lost or separated from their mothers, in the wilds. Nothing but the best of intentions can be ascribed to the person who brought the little animal to the city police this week from Shawnigan Lake. And it is conceivable that abnormal storm conditions there might have brought the fawn close to death from cold. But it may be wise at this season to recall the advice of game department authorities relative to the practice. They have been emphatic in their injunctions to people to leave the small creatures where they find them, since, in virtually all cases, the mother deer is not far distant, although she may have been frightened from the side of her offspring by the approach of humans. Bringing the young to the city for removal to the game farm often has fatal results. The diet of baby deer is a matter of delicate balance. Most frequently when they have been fed by humans and turned over to the proper officials, they fail to survive. Their mortality rate is much lower when they are left in their natural habitat, helpless as they may appear to well-meaning rescuers.

THE ZONE OF PRESSURE

BETWEEN the eastern boundary to Turkey and the southeastern boundary of Russia lie the lonely and mountainous areas of Kars and Ardahan. For centuries they have been the battleground between the ancient Ottoman empire and the westward thrust of the Russians. Again today they have become one of the key zones of international friction as Russia demands their possession and Turkey claims them for its own.

Since it is in Turkey, at the vital channel of the Dardanelles, that the interests of the western Allies and of expanding Russia can come into most serious collision, the governments of the world are watching how far Russia intends to go in demanding Kars and Ardahan to the eastward.

THE DEMAND FOR these territories was made by Russia last June and again at the Potsdam conference where it was mentioned so incidentally that President Truman forgot it, but Mr. Byrnes remembered it. By confining himself to Kars and Ardahan, a thin strip of territory on Turkey's eastern flank, Mr. Molotov was much more modest than many Russian newspapers and historians. They insisted that Russia must have a much larger area, cutting off roughly a fourth of Turkey.

Mr. Molotov's claim goes back a long way in history. The Ottoman empire conquered this territory in the 16th century and held it for 300 years. In 1907 Russia captured it but could not hold it then. In 1877, when it defeated the Turks, Russia acquired it again. But when Russia retired from the First World War and Lenin laid down the policy of no trouble with Turkey, Kars and Ardahan were handed back to the Turks after the local population had voted in a plebiscite overwhelmingly in favor of Turkish control.

RUSSIA UP TO RECENT times has never disputed Turkish ownership, which was recognized in the Treaty of Moscow in 1921 when Russia declared it was "prepared scrupulously to observe the territorial integrity of the Turkish republic."

This year Russia began again its historic advance toward the warm waters of the Mediterranean with a series of diplomatic offensives. It asked for a base in the Italian colonies of north Africa and another in the eastern Dodecanese Islands, which shield the Dardanelles from the south. Mr. Churchill revealed for the first time in his New York speech that Russia had also demanded not merely the opening of the Dardanelles to its ships in peace and war but a base actually commanding this vital waterway. As part of the same general strategic plan Russia denounced its pact of friendship with Turkey, advanced its claim to Kars and Ardahan and conducted what Mr. Bevin has called a "war of nerves" against Turkey.

OF THIS WAR of nerves Kars and Ardahan are the spearhead. They are desired for themselves because they form a strategic frontier on Russia's southernmost flank and because they are supposed to be rich in oil. But obviously they are more important as a bargaining counter in a larger political strategy.

By pressing historic claims here, by insisting that these regions are actually Russian territory ceded under compulsion when Russia was sick with revolution, the Kremlin may well be hoping to secure satisfactory terms in the more vital region of the Dardanelles.

These pressures, with the pressure on Iran, are all part of a Russian policy which began with Peter the Great—an advance into the Baltic and the northern sea lanes, now achieved, and a parallel progress into the Mediterranean, now in dangerous progress.

FOR THESE SUPREME objectives Russia has gone to war many times through the centuries. No such extreme views are now imputed to her but undoubtedly Russia is now employing every resource of diplomacy to achieve these traditional ends.

Quoting

The catch is that while we live in one world we do not live in one time. The jangle you hear is not so much national anthems out of tune as clocks out of time. Even American clocks strike different hours, even the little timepieces that each man carries within himself. The primeval tomtom still beats while the atom bomb ticks. Russia is straddling the centuries, in victory more than ever pounding backward to Peter the Great and racing to overtake Henry Ford and Henry Kaiser before she has caught up with Thomas Jefferson. The clocks of Europe are turning back and the clocks of Asia are turning forward. And there are places where time stands still because the night does not lift and there is no tomorrow. —Anne O'Hare McCormick in the New York Times.

There are those who say that Germany and Japan are hopelessly militaristic, but there are some nations which have been extremely militaristic in the past but have changed. The old Norsemen were as pronounced an example of militarism as ever existed, but in only a few hundred years Denmark, Sweden, and Norway have developed a non-militaristic type of culture which ranks among the highest of any cultural patterns in the world.—Dr. Karl Bowman, U. of California Medical School.

No single nation, however wealthy, can do the job. No small group of nations can do it. We must have the all-out effort of all countries, including the deficit countries themselves.—Sir John Boyd Orr, U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization director-general.

'Mothering' Important, States Psychiatrist

A return to the old-fashioned ways of "mothering" an infant to ensure proper psychological trends later in life was advocated by Dr. J. F. Tyhurst in addressing a meeting of the Nursery School Association, Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. J. D. Sills, 2098 Windsor Road.

The importance of fulfilling the biological needs of an infant, rather than the psychological needs, was stressed by the psychiatrist, who said this was the infant's first contact with the world and, therefore, important that it be satisfactory.

"Bad habits of infancy are just substitutions for the lack of these needs," Dr. Tyhurst stated. "Touch, equilibrium and sound are the three sensations taken in by a baby, which for the first year is merely a reflex animal."

The speaker explained the importance of the baby being handled often and by some one person over a length of time, with images being formed in the infant's mind through these sensations. Gentle mothering, with stroking and fondling, together with soft crooning to satisfy the infant's sense of sound, was urged by the psychiatrist. The value of a cradle for rocking and a "comforter" for sucking was stressed.

Mrs. V. W. Jones presided and Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin introduced the speaker.

City Not Demanding Riding School Go As Willows Sale Term

Removal of the riding academy from Willows will not be one of the terms of sale to S. W. Randall, it was decided at a special meeting of the city finance committee Wednesday afternoon, Ald. Edward Williams, committee chairman, said.

Mr. Randall attended the meeting when the matter was discussed, and the question of retention of the riding academy at Willows will be a matter between

WARNS MOTHERS OF BOTTLE-FED BABIES

They'll Do It Every Time

3 Years To Take Up Housing Slack Here Realtors Told

Forecast that it would take three years to catch up with the dwelling accommodation problem in Victoria and a number of years before the "saturation point" in houses was reached, was made by Col. Brooke Stephenson, president of the Real Estate Board of Victoria, at a luncheon meeting in the Kit Kat Restaurant, Wednesday.

He denied that there was any "boom" in the city, stating: "We in Victoria are not accustomed to high prices; waterfront property and homes are moderately priced." He added that he had been through two booms, and during one of them sold a piece of corner property on Burnside Road for $7,000, which today could be purchased at $750.

"There is a certain amount of inflation in building materials, but not so much as in the east or Vancouver," he said. "Victoria is just starting to come into her own property. Our prices are not high on anything. Downtown property is low in price."

He warned the realtors not to let subdivisions go on the market with lots of less than 50 feet. He referred to other cities where lots of 33 feet were prevalent and said: "Don't let us ever get into that category." He spoke of the many easterners who wish to settle here.

Discussing a recent meeting in Vancouver of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a crown company, Col. Stephenson said one of the ideas of the corporation was to decentralize control from Ottawa, spreading it out through the country. It was being planned, he said, to open an office in Vancouver where housing loans could be stamped approved, rather than being sent on to Ottawa.

"The meeting emphasized inspection and laid stress on the stability of the contractor," he said. "See that the money you are advancing is properly protected."

National Housing Administration, Wartime Housing Ltd. and Veterans' Land Act all come under control of the corporation, Col. Stephenson said. He referred briefly to Housing Enterprises Ltd., which he said plans to build 300 houses in Victoria.

"There are 3,000 uncompleted homes in Winnipeg, about that number in Vancouver and approximately 500 in Victoria," he continued, as he spoke of the effect of the lumber strike not only on housing, but with regard to grain, wheat, tree and small fruit crops and the salmon run, which would require lumber for packing the cans.

Howard B. Craig suggested the executive look into the matter of placing identification cards in windows of realtors belonging to the Victoria board.

Swimming Classes

Swimming classes will be inaugurated again this year under the auspices of the supervised playground committee for Victoria, W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, said today.

First class will open Tuesday, July 2, at the Crystal Garden for girls who will swim every Tuesday. Boys will swim Fridays, starting July 5.

Children between the ages of six and nine will swim from 9.30 to 10 o'clock and over 10-year-olds will swim at 10, he said.

Supervisors and swimming instructors will be on hand for all classes. The Council of Social Agencies finances the classes.

Restoring Jersey Will Take Time

The British island of Jersey in the English Channel, occupied by the Germans during World War II, although it did not suffer extensive damage, will probably need some time before it returns to normal, according to Maj. R. G. Maltwood, a native of Jersey, now visiting Victoria.

Maj. Maltwood, who is in Canada for a Jersey Island securities company, came to Victoria to visit his uncle, John Maltwood, The Thatch, Royal Oak.

Food conditions were not too bad during the first three years of the war, he said, but in the latter period, rationing became strict and Red Cross parcels were probably responsible for saving the islanders from severe shortage.

The serious offenses committed by the Germans on the island were severely punished by the German authorities, Maj. Maltwood said. He understood the island was used as a type of rest centre for troops, and he believed the threat that misbehaving soldiers might expect

Father Of Victoria 'Blue Baby' Home

After spending more than a month in Baltimore, Maryland, to be close at hand for his "blue baby" daughter's delicate heart operation and during the post-operative period, Janet's father arrived back in Victoria yesterday afternoon.

The "blue baby," who had a hard struggle following her operation in Johns Hopkins Hospital, was considered over the critical stage and on the road to recovery before the doctors would permit her father's return to Victoria.

He does not think Janet will be able to leave the hospital for some time yet, probably in three weeks or so, but is an extremely happy parent over the fact that she came successfully through the operation to make her a normal, healthy baby.

The father had great praise for the hospitality of the Baltimore Uptown Lions Club to himself and his wife, who is remaining in Baltimore to be near Janet.

Brooklyn Rallies In 9th To Defeat Cards

In the hearts of some 2,786,000 Brooklyn residents there was nothing but forgiveness for their dear Dodgers who were due back home today from their weary and nearly disastrous western invasion.

And why not? Hadn't their beloved bums presented their faithful followers with the most desirable birthday present imaginable by whipping those hated St. Louis Cardinals for the first time in five meetings this season on Brooklyn's 30th anniversary.

What mattered if the Brooks had dropped five straight on the road? So what if their 4½-game margin had shrunk to two? Who cared whether the Red Birds had walked their heroes four successive times prior to Wednesday night's contest.

That was water under the Brooklyn Bridge. Hadn't those beautiful bums won the game they wanted them to win most of all? And weren't they coming back home still in the National League's top spot?

For a time it appeared the Dodger faithful would have to go to bed without their birthday present as the ninth inning opened with Brooklyn trailing the Cards, 7 to 6. But Pete Reiser, Brooklyn's most explosive weapon, led off the frame with a double and before the round was over, the Dodgers had kayaked the Cards 10 to 7 to safeguard their slim lead.

3TH STRAIGHT LOSS
In the National League's only other game, Cincinnati Reds handed New York Giants their fifth straight defeat, 3 to 2, to drop the Polo Grounders to within a half game of the last-place Philadelphia Phillies.

Once again Bobby Feller, the Cleveland comet, proved his greatness when he cooled off the

V.M.D. Win 8th Straight

All-Star Team Named

Victory number eight was posted by the V.M.D. ball club Wednesday night at the expense of the Navy 10 to 6. Although the league leaders were only able to pick up seven hits from the offerings of Jimmy Fidler, 11 Navy errors helped them no end.

Tony Maze, portly southpaw, started on the mound for the V.M.D. and after his club had piled up a 6 to 0 lead in four innings retired to the outfield with shortstop Jimmy Morrison taking over. Morrison fared anything but well and, after giving up one run in the fifth and five in the sixth to tie the score made a hurried exit in the seventh as Maze returned to the mound. He shut out the Navy for the remainder of the way as the shipyarders went on to win.

One of the game's highlights was Maze's long home run over the left-field fence.

League officials last night announced the all-star club to battle Bremerton Bells in a pair of games here Saturday, starting at 2:30 and 8. The line-up follows:

Pitchers, Musgrave, Maze, V.M.D.; Prior, Legion; Curry, Eagles; Dumeau, Navy; Catchers, Sutherland, V.M.D.; Phillips, Eagles. First base, Work, V.M.D. Second base, Taylor, V.M.D. Third base, Lowe, Shortstop, Morrison, V.M.D. Left field, Garnet, V.M.D. Centre field, Duffy, V.M.D.; Restall, Legion.

Wayne Sabin Wins Match With Tilden

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., outclassed William T. Tilden II in an extended three-set match Wednesday night to eliminate the 38-year-old former world champion in the first round of the 2,500 southern open tennis tournament.

Sabin downed Tilden, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, after Bill twice moved within a single point of victory in the second set.

Lackie's Ciros Continue Victory March In Senior 'A' Men Fastball

Although the season is still young, the appearance of things in the senior A men's Lower Island Fastball Association circuit are that Ciros, managed by Jim Lackie, are well on the way to taking the 1946 honors by a wide margin.

The eleven improved their record to eight wins in nine engagements to cement themselves in the leadership berth of the three-team loop Wednesday night at Central Park when 500 big apple fans saw them administer an 11 to 3 beating to the second-place Hoyle-Brown unit managed by Lloyd Jones.

Hoyle-Brown in 10 games have won six. Other team, Canadian Legion, has not made an impression in the victory column in nine times on the diamond.

The Lackie managed team grabbed the lead at the outset by driving five runners over the route, enough to see them through at the game's end by two runs. But they added single runs in the third, sixth and seventh and then bunched a trio of markers in the eighth to wind up their scoring efforts.

Hoyle-Browners scored their three runs in the third.

BURTT HURLS 2-HIT BALL

There was no doubt in the fans' minds that Ciros were superior when it was all over. Cafemen's twirler Vic Burtt, although shaky at times, which cost 10 walks, pitched two-hit ball in going the route. All but one of the 11 hits got-by the winners were collected from Stan Tenning, who was relieved by Norm Martin in the eighth after Ciros had scored three runs on a like number of hits. The two of them walked 10. Burtt was top man in strikeouts by a long margin. He breezed eight compared to Tenning's one.

Oakland Gains Game In Tight Ball Race

The Oakland Aorns and San Francisco Seals pressed their rivalry for the top post in the Pacific Coast Baseball League into 10-inning contests which reaped a reward only for the Aorns and left them two games ahead today.

Both games were decided last night by lone 10th-inning tallies. Oakland grabbed a 11 to 10 decision, though pounced all over the lot by the Sacramento Solons. San Francisco lost to the Portland Beavers 6 to 5.

The Oaks' home run king, Les Scarcella, doubled against the fence, driving in Tony Sabol from second for the winning tally and the fourth run batted in by Scarcella.

The Hollywood Stars got an 8 to 3 decision over the San Diego Padres out of a seven-hit attack on three pitchers.

The Seattle Rainiers, in the middle of a dicker seeking Jo Jo White of Sacramento as their new manager, lost to the Los Angeles Angels 4 to 1, evening the series at a game apiece.

Murphy's Baseball Guild Experiences Second Setback

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The American Baseball Guild reeled under its second major setback today as the National Labor Relations Board ordered charges of unfair labor practices filed against Pittsburgh's Pirates be either withdrawn or dismissed.

There was no immediate comment from Robert Murphy, guild leader, who was reported staying with friends in New York.

Murphy's next move to achieve recognition of his union is doubtful, but it is believed he may appeal to the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board.

Murphy had asserted earlier he had chosen Pittsburgh as the guild's testing ground because "it is covered by both the national labor and state acts."

"I am sure," he said, "it is covered by the Pennsylvania Labor Act if not by the national one."

ST. ANDREW'S WIN

VANCOUVER (CP)—St. Andrew's, playing without Hughie Greer, Wes Henderson, Jimmy Grieg and Ray Burgess Wednesday night defeated Kerrisdale 3 to 2 in a Coast Soccer League game at Callister Park here to go into a tie with North Shore United at the head of the second-half standings.

Negro Pro Ball Clubs Play Here Next Week

Something new in baseball will be offered Victoria fans at Athletic Park next week when Seattle Steelheads and Portland Roses of the Pacific Coast Negro Professional League play two league games, June 20-21. The two engagements will be night affairs with the net proceeds to be divided between the Salarium Junior League and the Victoria Athletics' Junior Baseball League.

Games will be staged under the auspices of the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co. Ltd.

As an added attraction Jesse Owens, famous Olympic sprint champion, will appear here in his role as manager of the Portland club. Games will start each night at 8.

ATHLETICS DROP ANOTHER

SALEM—With first baseman George Vico pacing the attack with a home run and two singles the league-leading Salem Senators racked up their sixth straight victory over Victoria Athletics here last night 6 to 2. Win enabled the Salem club to retain their margin at the head of the Western International Baseball League.

Victoria scored an unearned run in the first on Al Steele's single, a stolen base, an error and an outfield fly by Pete Hughes. They added another in the third on successive doubles by Bob Cherry and Beans Marionetti.

Salem counted first in the fourth on walks, Vico's hit, and Hank Souda's long fly. In the fifth Hank Bartolomei walked, moved to second on a sacrifice, and scored on Lou Kubiak's one-baser. Duane Crawford followed with a single, Vern Reynolds was out, and Vico parked one out of the lot. In the seventh singles by Reynolds, Vico, Hal Summers and Souda brought in the sixth and final tally.

For Salem, Lefty Ken Wyatt went the route and gave but five hits.

Tacoma, winning their second straight game from the Spokane Indians, ousted the Tribe from third place in the standings. The score: 2 to 1.

Despite all our efforts, we are still extremely short of telephone equipment and materials, such as telephones, wire, cable, and central office equipment.

Labor disputes have made it impossible for eastern factories to keep up their deliveries to us in recent months, and our big development program for 1946 is badly disrupted.

The demand for telephone service continues to be the greatest we have ever known, and it should be pointed out that the number of telephones in our system has increased 30 per cent since before the war, despite the curtailment imposed by wartime restrictions. Names are still being added to the bottom of the waiting list faster than we can remove them from the top. There are now over 19,000 names on our waiting list.

Within the last few days the supply picture has become brighter as far as telephones and wire are concerned. The factories say that they expect to improve their deliveries shortly if no new upset occurs. If they can do this we should be able, by midsummer, to begin reducing the length of our waiting list.

We cannot hazard a guess as to when the waiting list will completely disappear, but in the meantime we are doing everything possible to get telephone service for the thousands of waiting people.

New Board Chairman, Revision Of Wage Control Rules Foreseen

OTTAWA (CP)—Revision of the government's wage control regulations, preceded by a change in the chairmanship of the National War Labor Board, is being predicted in informed capital quarters.

Reports, so far lacking official confirmation, are that Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chairman of the National Board, will resign shortly to return to the Nova Scotia bench.

The other two members of the board now are George Hodge of Montreal, representing the employers, and J. A. McClelland of Montreal, representing the employees.

STUDY NEEDED

Revision of the wage control order is not expected until further study is given proposed changes. Recent government action has made it apparent the present policy cannot long be continued. In two current disputes affecting the rubber and steel industries, the federal Labor Department has appointed a commissioner to act with the parties in an effort to reach a settlement.

Both disputes are primarily based on union demands for increased wages and shorter hours.

Under the present legislation the National War Labor Board is the final authority on these matters and its approval must be obtained before revisions are put into effect.

The complications that may arise from the plan of appointing commissioners are particularly apparent in the steel case. The United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) have long been seeking a uniform wage schedule in the three Canadian basic steel plants.

Two of those plants are in Ontario and wage applications in the first instance go to the Ontario War Labor Board, with the National Board handling appeals. The other mill is in Nova Scotia and first approach there is to the Nova Scotia Board.

The Nova Scotia steelworkers average about five cents less an hour than the workers in the Ontario mills, and the National Board recently turned down the union's latest move for a levelling of the rates. Thus, should the commissioner support the union's contention that rates should be uniform there would be direct conflict between two government-appointed agencies.

The City Hall Employees' Association will meet in the City Hall Friday at 8.

Huge Coal Shipment East Uneconomical, B.C. Officials Say

Provincial government mines department officials today expressed the belief that British Columbia and Alberta coal mines could supply 1,000,000 tons of coal for central Canada, but the shipments by rail would be not economical.

To meet an emergency situation in the east, the Dominion government expressed hope Wednesday that 1,000,000 tons of western coal would be available for Ontario and Quebec this winter. Officials said the supplies would come mainly from Alberta and British Columbia.

British Columbia has been importing about 1,000,000 tons of coal annually from Alberta, most of it being used in eastern British Columbia. It is not believed here that coal from Vancouver Island mines will be allocated for shipment east.

Ottawa officials said the 1,000,000 tons would not affect the recent order restricting deliveries of coal to homes because "we are banking on this amount when the order was prepared."

The situation, provincial government officials said, will probably be most acute next winter when the demand here is greatest for coal. Certain western mines are suffering from a shortage of labor.

Out-Of-Work Pay List Grows As Strike Affects Other Jobs

Economic life of Victoria and the island is being seriously disturbed by the strike of 25,000 British Columbia woodworkers now in its 29th day.

A survey today showed orders for foodstuffs from up-island communities, especially those in lumbering districts, are on the wane at Victoria wholesalers. Contractors reported mill work for badly-needed veterans houses now impossible to obtain. Fruit dealers said there were absolutely no new crates for perishable fruits and vegetables.

"The strike," said a representative of one of Victoria's largest real estate and financial firms, "is really starting to hurt in no uncertain terms."

He pointed out that all work had ceased on an apartment building containing 21 suites. He understood that work had also ceased on other apartment structures.

C. A. Mudge, employment service manager here, noted an increase in applications for unemployment insurance and a definite decrease in listing of job vacancies.

He said the increase in applications came chiefly from construction workers. Because they had been laid off through "no fault of their own," there would be no delay in payment of benefits.

SECOND-HAND CRATES

A wholesale fruit dealer said his firm was now using second-hand crates for shipping bananas, watermelons and lettuce to island towns. The used crates were being obtained from junk dealers and from retail stores.

He considered the supply of second-hand crates would not last more than a week or two. Cardboard containers, he said, were being used for berries already on the mainland.

As for wrapping paper, a wholesaler warned shoppers they would soon either be bringing their own shopping bags or carrying their parcels unwrapped. He said his firm's supply of paper bags had been exhausted. During the last week he had been supplying one roll of paper to firms which ordinarily ordered five. Even this supply would not last much longer.

One big contracting firm had already laid off half their carpenters and expected to let out more in a few days. Other firms reported concentrating on alterations where lumber could be used over again.

Allocation Of Homes To Veterans Awaits Fixing Of Prices

Prices cannot be determined for Veterans' Land Act houses in the Victoria area until construction contracts are fulfilled, and therefore the houses cannot be allocated to qualified war veterans until they are complete, J. D. Patterson, regional supervisor of the Veterans' Land Act said today.

Mr. Patterson made this statement after a talk with Robert Knight, chairman of the zone council of the Canadian Legion, who Wednesday night requested that the federal authorities set prices on the one-acre properties and allocate them to the veterans.

Mr. Knight said several of the houses were sufficiently complete to be occupied, and that unless they were allocated in the near future, it might be necessary for the Canadian Legion to take action similar to that taken in Kelowna, where a committee is reported planning to allocate 30 veterans' homes if the federal authorities do not do so soon.

Mr. Patterson said that while it was common at present for owners to move into houses before they were absolutely complete, a government department "couldn't do business that way."

He said he had "a good number of qualified applicants" for the houses being built in this area, many of which are nearing completion.

Boards To Meet

The joint health and water boards will hold a meeting Friday morning to discuss wording of the chlorination referendum and how the matter can best be placed before the people, Ald. J. A. Worthington, chairman of the water board, announced today.

At a meeting of the water board it was decided to recommend to the next City Council meeting that a full-time life-guard be employed at Thetis Lake for the months of July and August.

Several small tenders were let to McLennan, McFeely and Prior and Hickman-Tyee Hardware companies for supplies to repair the Sooke Lake flow line, Ald. Worthington said.

Town Topics

The annual pedestrian count of downtown streets will be held Saturday, June 29, G. A. Okell, city assessor-collector, announced today.

The B.C. Hardware, 729 Fort Street, reported to police today the theft of a drill stand and several drills valued at $40 from the window of its store.

A motorist who pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of failing to hand a red flag on a four-foot projection from his car, was fined $10.

Police are seeking the driver of a car believed to have crashed a telephone pole on Esquimalt Road early this morning, breaking the pole at the base, and leaving it leaning at a 45 degree angle with one live wire hanging.

H. S. Mammill of V.M.D., has sent Mayor Percy George a copy of the letter he sent every employee of the firm, explaining the possibility of granting wage demands made by the unions, and what it would mean to the organization if the employees do not modify their demands.

Building permits have been issued to Walter Revercomb to build a five-room house at 2720 Cook Street, costing $6,000; to the Exchange Building for repairs at 1216 Broad Street, costing $1,500; and to Marine Service Station for a boat shed on Wharf Street, costing $1,400.

School attendance areas are being set at the present time by a committee of school principals, J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, said today. Announcement of the school boundaries will be made about June 20, so that students will know which school they will be attending next term.

On behalf of the City Hall staff and the City Council, Mayor Percy George today presented Dr. Richard Felton, who retired from the post of medical health officer after 17 years with the city health department, with a record player, cabinet and records. Mayor George paid tribute to Dr. Felton's record of service.

The Vancouver Island drivers' division of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees has written the City Council requesting permission to have its transportation committee meet with the Greater Victoria Transportation committee and the City Council to discuss the operation of the unified transportation system in this area.

G. B. Sinclair, 1228 Oxford Street, received cuts and bruises when his motorcycle was in collision with a car driven by Hunter E. Smith, 616 Gorge Road West, on Gorge Road near Rock Bay Avenue at 10:35 Wednesday night, police reported. Sinclair was treated at Jubilee Hospital after the mishap which occurred when he attempted to pass the car which was turning into a driveway.

Mail Boxes Damaged

Police are investigating reports that two Oak Bay street mail boxes have been tampered with.

The boxes at Currie and Island Roads and at Newport Avenue and Beach Drive have been damaged at the hinges of the doors, similar to a case reported in the city earlier in the week. A box in Fairfield had the hinges broken and when the mail collector unlocked the door, it broke off.

To Close Offices

In tribute to the late A. T. Goward, former B.C. Electric vice-president, the company's Douglas Street store will be closed Saturday until 1. Langley Street offices will remain closed all day Saturday.

Advertisers Confer

Nearly every country is represented at the World General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists which terminates at Washington, D.C., June 15.

Extension Of Plan Urged To Include All Incapacitated

Extension of the rehabilitation program for disabled veterans to include all disabled persons in Canada, as an economic measure, was urged Wednesday in a luncheon address to the Canadian Club by Edward A. Dunlop, Supervisor of Casualty Rehabilitation for the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Blinded himself in World War II by a grenade explosion, Mr. Dunlop told the club of the department's work in helping partly incapacitated war veterans become useful members of the community.

"But," he said, "it is not generally recognized that there are at least 150,000 persons in Canada who are not veterans, who are not in the special groups which are cared for, who are not able to work, but who could be enabled to work if proper rehabilitation service were available to them."

If these persons were enabled to work, Mr. Dunlop said, the result would be greatly increased production and consumption in Canada and a great saving in social services.

Common misapprehensions concerning the partly disabled, Mr. Dunlop said, were:

1. That the physically disabled were objects of charity and pity. Properly rehabilitated, he said, they could compete on equal terms with the able-bodied.

2. That they were limited in the vocations they could enter. The department, said Mr. Dunlop, recognized 7,000 kinds of work, in almost every one of which at least one disabled veteran was employed.

3. That the disabled were characterized by their disabilities. "The disabled were individuals, he said, with individual characters and abilities."

The portion of disabled persons who were unable, for physical, social, economic or mental reasons to earn a living, Mr. Dunlop said, had been proven to be no higher than the percentage of able-bodied persons who were unemployed.

Warren Barker, Canadian Scottish veteran who lost his left arm at Caen, played piano selections which received warm applause.

Ask D.V.A. Take Over Military Cemeteries

Request that the Department of Veterans' Affairs take over the army and navy cemeteries in Esquimalt, now being operated by the Department of National Defence, was made by the Citizens' Memorial Day committee in a meeting Wednesday, Ald. W. L. Morgan, committee chairman, said. This would ensure a burial plot for veterans in the Greater Victoria area.

A resolution was passed expressing thorough dissatisfaction with present burial facilities for war veterans.

It was also recommended that full-time caretakers be hired and sufficient adjoining property be acquired to take care of all future requirements.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the Minister of National Defence, the Minister of Veterans' Affairs, R. W. Mayhew, M.P.; Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, M.P., all municipal councils in the area, the Canadian Legion and the I.O.D.E.

Garson To Join Ottawa Cabinet?

WINNIPEG (CP)—A motion of "confidence and loyal support" of Provincial Leader Erick Willis was put over until this afternoon at this forenoon's session of the Progressive Conservative Association of Manitoba.

The lead to postpone discussion of the motion, submitted by J. A. Ross, member of the House of Commons for Souris, was taken by John Haig, a delegate from Winnipeg South, who referred to reports that Premier Stuart Garson of Manitoba might resign to enter the federal cabinet and seek election in the now-vacant constituency of Portage la Prairie.

Boys' Toll Bridge Nets Nickels, Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—A down-pour of rain brought a flood of nickels—and no little excitement—to three boys who set up a wooden plank "toll bridge" at a flooded south side viaduct.

With water almost at sidewalk level Wednesday evening, James Woods, 15, Pat Callahan, 15, and Bob Smith, 14, placed a long plank across the street to the adjoining sidewalk and announced stranded pedestrians could cross for a nickel each.

Their "ferry station" was doing a land-office business when a male pedestrian announced he wouldn't pay the toll. He started across the plank, but one of the youthful proprietors pulled him off. The pedestrian gave fight and Woods' father, Martin, joined in the short struggle.

The elder Woods said "anyone who doesn't want to pay on walk a couple of blocks south or north and cross the street without getting his feet wet."
